TEACHER OF CLASSICS Maternity Cover

Founded in 1646, Reading Blue Coat is a leading independent day school of circa 800 pupils from ages 11 to 18. The School is located on a beautiful 46-acre campus in the village of Sonning, just outside Reading.

The School employs more than 180 staff, of whom 50% are academic staff, and provides a stimulating, friendly and supportive atmosphere in which each pupil can realise his or her full intellectual, physical, and creative potential.

An enthusiastic and inspiring Latin and Classics specialist with outstanding subject knowledge and a passion for their subject both within the curriculum and as an extra-curricular activity is required from September 2023 to teach Latin and Classical Civilisation.

The Classics Department provides a stimulating and interesting curriculum, introducing pupils to Latin and the ancient world and supporting them in their endeavours throughout the school. The number of pupils studying the subjects have increased significantly over the last two years. Broadening the pupils' interest and engagement with the Classical world is paramount to the department's philosophy and a number of field trips, co-curricular activities and clubs are on offer to facilitate this.

The ideal candidate will have a good Honours degree relevant to the teaching aspects of the role, and will preferably have qualified teacher status, although the School will accept applicants who are on an accredited programme working towards Qualified Teacher Status. You must be able to teach Latin and Classical Civilisation to a good level; Greek is welcome, but not essential.

Reading Blue Coat offers an exceptional working environment and an attractive rewards package, including excellent benefits such as a pension scheme; free meals; extensive staff discounts; tax saving cycle to work and car leasing schemes; free sports and leisure facilities; Employee Assistance Programme; and a strong commitment to professional development.
